Gets Time for Repentance.
Nellie Fisher, a white woman, apparently fifty years old, was in the Police Court today, on a charge of vagrancy.

"This woman was asleep on a bench at the people's mission near the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 10th street northwest, last night," a policeman testified, "and she was very drunk."

"Judge, if you let me go I'll behave myself."

"Can't do it, have to hold you for three days," his honor said.

THE BRADBURY FACTORY WANTS SQUARE PIANOS.

Will Take Them in Exchange for New Bradbury Uprights.

NO CASH OUTLAY REQUIRED.

Send in the Old Square and Get a Magnificent 1902 Model Bradbury!

If any one has an old Square Piano which they wish to dispose of to the very best advantage the writer would advise them to make known the fact at once at the Bradbury Factory Ware Rooms, 1225 Pa. ave. It is understood that for the next few days during the holidays the Bradbury Company will accept Square Pianos at their full cash value—giving a due bill in exchange, or allow it to appear at once on a handsome new 1902 model Bradbury Upright Piano. They will send their van for your old Square Piano and deliver the new Bradbury at your residence immediately. No cash outlay on your part is necessary. The easy payments may commence after the holidays at your convenience—but the new Piano will be sent to you at once.

Judging from the number who have already accepted this very liberal offer, it must be considered by the public a very rare opportunity to realize the worth of the old Square Pianos. Those who desire full particulars of this proposition should inquire at the Bradbury Ware Rooms, 1225 Pa. ave., as early as convenient, as the offer only holds good for a few days.

USED CARBOLIC ACID

DANIEL J. WHITE TAKES HARSH MEANS TO LEAVE THE WORLD.

Found in a Toilet Room—His Mouth Badly Burned by the Acid.

Daniel J. White, thirty-two years old, who was employed as a clerk in the census office, was found dead in the toilet room of the saloon of R. J. Schultz, No. 607 G street northwest, yesterday evening. His death, the coroner found, was due to carbolic acid, self-administered. Why the young man ended his life in this way his friends are unable to understand. Louis Thaler, the bartender in the saloon, found the dead body of the man and notified the police. Special Policeman Dyson, who does duty at the railway crossing at 5th and G streets, made an investigation of the affair and found a bottle labeled "carbolic acid" in the toilet room near the body. When the body reached the morgue the superintendent found the man's mouth had been badly burned by the strong acid he had taken.

Good Reputation.
The deceased was appointed a clerk in the census office eighteen months ago upon the recommendation of Representative W. H. Ryan of the Buffalo district. He was regarded as an excellent clerk by the chief of the agricultural division of the census office in the Union building, where he was employed. The saloon where he ended his life is only a few doors from this building. White boarded at 481 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. His parents, who live in Buffalo, were notified of his death, and his body will probably be shipped to Buffalo to-night or tomorrow.

Mr. White, it is stated, had been sick for several days, but friends say he had shown no signs of despondency. If he had had trouble of any kind, his friends profess to be ignorant of it.

DIVORCE MILL BUSY

MANY APPLICATIONS FILED IN COURT TODAY.

Parties Anxious to Secure Relief Before New Code Goes Into Effect.

The assistant clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, in charge of the equity docket, was again today kept busy recording petitions for divorce. But two more days remain for instituting proceedings for divorce on grounds other than adultery.

The new code of law will become operative January 2, and by its provisions absolute divorce in the District of Columbia will only be granted in cases where the allegation of infidelity is sustained. In a petition, for divorce, filed today through Attorney Wm. Earl Ambrose, Nellie A. Radey charged that her husband, Charles A. Radey, to whom she was married at Baltimore, July 13, 1892, has been guilty of infidelity.

Catherine V. Grigsby has instituted suit for divorce against Rushford T. Grigsby, alleging cruel treatment of such character that the services of a physician were considered necessary. In connection with her petition, Mrs. Grigsby alleges that a former husband, who deserted her and who she believed to be dead when she married Mr. Grigsby, in so doing has been married by counsel, still living. The petitioner is represented by Attorney D. O. Callaghan.

Proceedings for divorce were also instituted by May M. Thompson, through Attorney A. A. Lipscomb, against Clarence P. Thompson. The parties were married May 24, 1894. Shortly after the wedding, says Mrs. Thompson, her husband began a course of systematic cruelty toward her, caused by his inveterate habits of drunkenness. He frequently assaulted her. It is charged, and the petition is for a divorce, that he has been guilty of infidelity.

Orville G. Watkins, 41, to grant him a divorce from Blanche M. Watkins. The parties were married the 20th of last January. Infidelity is alleged. Attorney Wm. Earl Ambrose appears for the petitioner.

Anna E. Ross, through Attorney L. M. King, filed suit for divorce against Henry Ross. Cruel treatment and habitual drunkenness are alleged.

In a petition for divorce filed this afternoon by Lucy S. Peck, her husband, James H. Peck, is accused of treating her in a manner so cruel as to endanger her health. In addition to a divorce Mrs. Peck asks that she be given the custody of the child of the couple. The petitioner is represented by Attorney John Raum.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

A Marine Corps Corporal Imitates Mr. Hackett's Signature.

George L. Dorre, a corporal in the United States marine corps who has been detailed at the War Department for messenger service for about four months, was arrested at the department this afternoon by Detectives Horne and Flather. The arrest was made on the charge of forging the name of Frank W. Hackett, ex-assistant secretary of the navy, to a check for $286.67, which check, it is claimed, he was unable to negotiate. The prisoner admitted his guilt, and was turned over to the military authorities to be tried by court-martial.

Both claim them. A pair of pants were a minister brought to the police station by a young colored man who was without a pair of trousers or shoes. He was wearing such articles when Policemen La Dow and Cooper arrested him, but they were taken from him at the station because it was alleged that he had stolen them. The man gave his name as Maten Bennett, and stated that he was a minister in support of his claim that he is a minister. It is claimed by the police that his name is John Crittlington, and that he has been in their custody before. This statement the man behind the bars denies. It is alleged that the colored man called at the house of Mrs. Bennett, No. 10 K street northwest yesterday, and engaged a room and board, saying he would pay her Sunday. After he left the house this morning Mrs. Bennett stated that she had a pair of trousers had disappeared from her room. Walter started home in a hurry, and on his way there he met the Rev. Crittlington, who was wearing, he claimed, the garment that had been taken from her room. He grabbed the trousers and put them on, and during which it is alleged the minister drew a knife on him, but did not use it. The prisoner will be taken before Judge Scott tomorrow.

Medicine Samples Under Ban.
Commissioners Will Prevent Their Free Distribution in Homes.

The District Commissioners have decided to put a stop to the promiscuous distribution of samples of patent medicine in the vestibules and doorways of private buildings, dwellings, etc., and are preparing for adoption two health regulations, which it is believed will effectively cover the case. The proposed regulations were recently referred to the attorney for the District, and he has submitted an opinion in which he holds that the Commissioners are authorized to make the regulations, which it is suggested shall be known as sections 9 and 10 of the ordinance to prevent the sale of unwholesome food in the cities of Washington and Georgetown. This ordinance was legalized by a joint resolution of Congress approved April 21, 1890. By a joint resolution approved February 25, 1890, the Commissioners were authorized in making regulations under the authority conferred by the legalized ordinance of the former board of health, whenever in their judgment the public interest requires it. The proposed regulations are as follows:

"Section 9—No person shall throw, cast, deposit, drop, scatter or leave, or cause to be thrown, cast, deposited, dropped, scattered or left upon any public highway or place in the District of Columbia, any medicinal or toxic substance, either in package or in bulk, except officers, employees and agents of the United States or the District of Columbia distributing such material for the purpose of disinfecting or cleansing; any person violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars for each and every such offense."

Section 10 provides that the medicinal or toxic substances must not be left "in or upon any premises in the District of Columbia, without the consent of the owner or occupant of said premises, except officers, employees or agents of the District of Columbia."

Gift From Mrs. McKinley.
A dispatch from Richmond, Va., says: Little Madeline Turner of this city is the proud possessor of a pair of slippers knit by Mrs. McKinley's own hands.

Madeline recently found a good picture of the late President in a periodical. She placed it in a handsome frame and sent it to Mrs. McKinley.

A little package containing the slippers came to the little girl, with just a line from the President's widow, saying, "I hope they will fit."

In a freight wreck near Silver Lake, Tex., during the week were detailed and five persons were or less injured.
